

ENTERPRISE CONTENT MANAGEMENT

BUSINESS TRENDS

CIOs have been grappling with challenges associated with the increasingly complex business processes & enterprise content that exists in disparate silos.

Over 85% of all corporate data is unstructured, & growing at over 75% annually.

More than 60% of information in any organization is unavailable when most needed, hindering the organizations ability to take quick decisions & respond to rapidly changing business needs & , competitive threats.

Organizations require reductions in turn around time (TAT) information integration of applications & transition to enhance process, productivity & service levels. It is imperative to have the right availability & analysis of requisite data for availing business insights.
