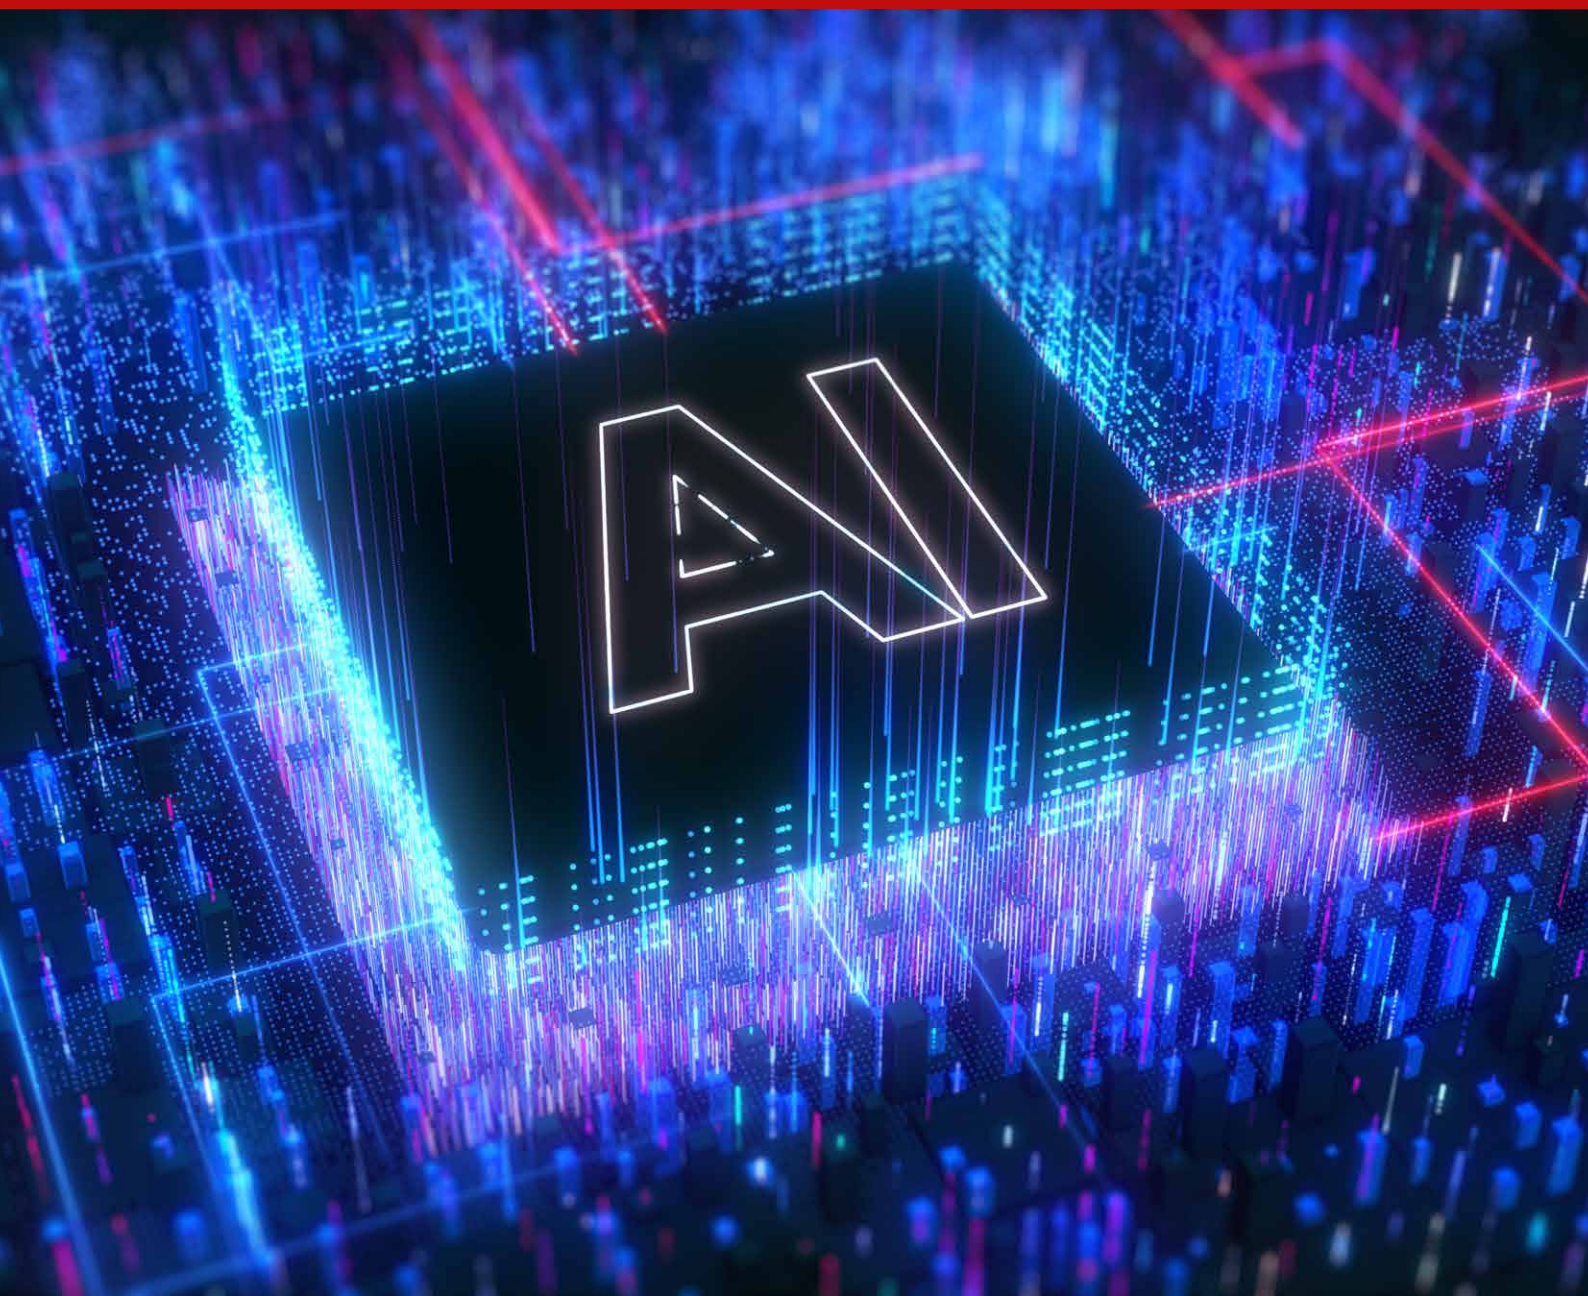
The GenAI-powered True Data Mining Solution
for Your Data Reserve



Move away rule-based legacy chatbots limited to simple queries and LLM based virtual assistants that hallucinate when devoid of accurate training!

TruDocs, the true data mining solution, goes beyond the limitations of modern and legacy chatbots and offers dynamic, context-aware, and adaptive responses by leveraging your own structured large datasets in a secure environment.

TruDocs is highly scalable and leverages GenAI and Natural Language Understanding (NLU) for handling complex queries that impart self-learning capability to the solution.

It seamlessly integrates with different large datasets and supports multiple languages during querying to deliver highly accurate outcomes. It uses predictive analytics and contextual understanding for generating insights.
